Time To Begin

Such are the routine days at Oakwood High School in which time is a sort of river of passing events, and strong is its current; no sooner is a thing brought to sight than it is swept by and another takes its place, and this too will be swept away.

As of May 31, the senior class will have said its good-byes to Oakwood High. Once again until the second week in June there will be no senior class to run rampant through the halls. One goal will have been reached and many stepping stones leading to it will have been left behind. For all of us May 31 will be the last time we will be gathered together as a class.

All the fun and novelty we have experienced in our high school days will be in the past. We will remember our retreat at Camp Kern and our psychedelic prom, "Psychotic Reaction," that made our sophomore year a challenging and fun filled one. Not many will forget the tests and college representatives composing our Junior year, and the flowering finale of Beachcombers. Finally our Senior year, filled with successes, is quickly coming to a close. Our winning football season, guided by the senior players, our popular class play, Odd Couple, our winter prom, and many other small but important intricacies that bind our last year together. Even such things as DOAC, the painting of the rock, and the many rolls of Teddy Bear, and the mock election will be difficult to erase from our memories.

As we pack up to leave we may feel a little wiser, a little more mature, and a bit melancholy. Whether we have spent six years at Oakwood or just one, we have gained lasting friendships. After graduation we will realize that we are free from the shackles of high school.

We realize that we are just another class, who knows that the beat must go on . . . The rhythm sways with a whirlpool of reverberating fanfare; it is an exploration, a hullaballo, a reckless joy. And the beat goes on . . .

In leaving we realize that we have added to our lives a stone to ripple the waters of time.

Juniors Excel In Many Areas

THE JUNIOR Class officers are as follows: Doug Baker, secretary; Brian Braley, treasurer; Larry McCoy, vice-president; and Brent Lawson, president.

KEVIN MURPHY, Gail Roler, and Brad Adams perform in front of their dramatics class.

This past school year, the junior class gave their attention to school activities and organizations.

Many girls and boys were active in sports either as participants or spectators. Football and basketball games attracted many people and also the girls' hockey games. Cheering for many of these events were Pam Henry, Lois Bush, Barb Brundige, Mary Maher, Susan Penny, and Pat Hager.

The class was headed by Brent Lawson, president; Larry McCoy, vice-president; Doug Baker, secretary; and Brian Braley, treasurer.

The all-school play, held in the spring, was participated by many students. The main attraction that the junior class held was the Beachcomber's Ball which required much time and effort.

PSAT's, taken last fall, gave students an understanding on the studying that must be achieved in their senior year of high school.

Sophomores Plan First Prom

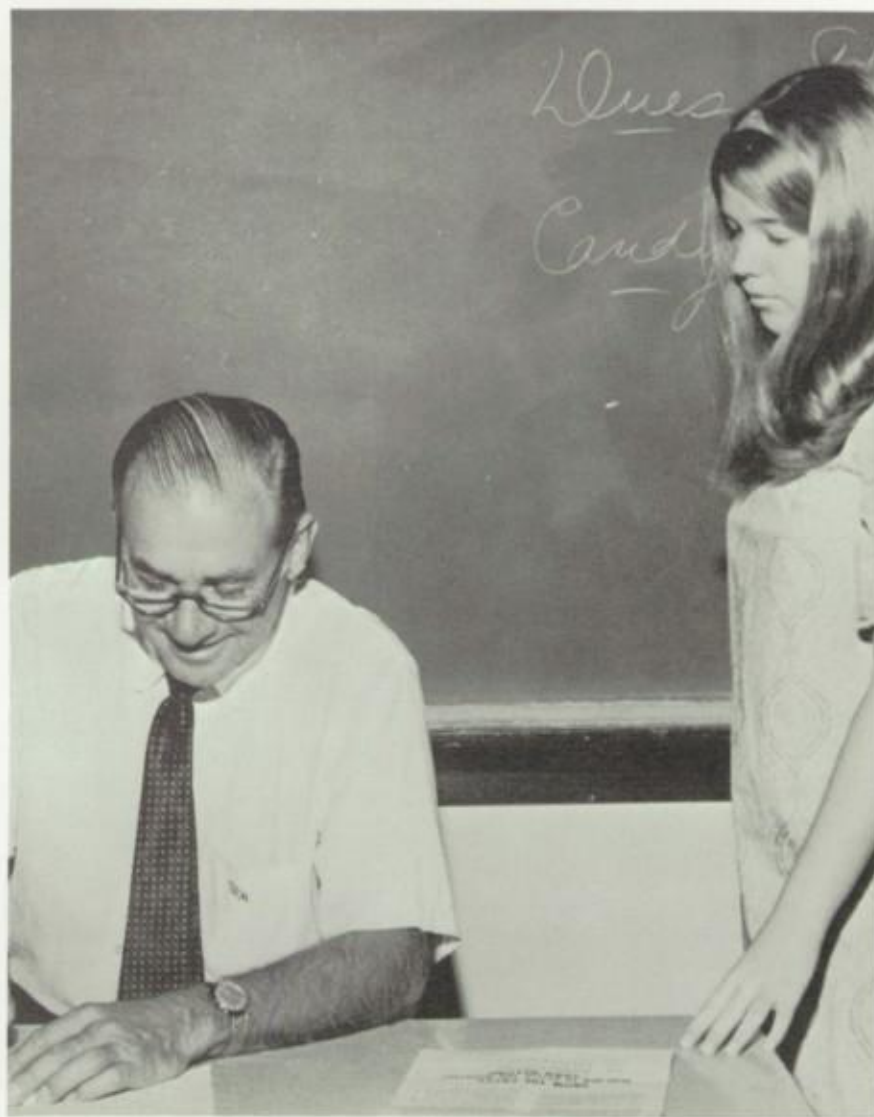

As the Sophomores entered their first year of high school, they realized the new opportunities that faced them.

Their first prom was held in the spring, while in previous months candy was sold to earn money for the event. This was the first year for AP English, JCOWA, Tri Hi Y, GAA, and participating in varsity sports. Class rings were bought by many enthusiastic Sophomores.

Leading the class were Jim Hocker, President; Mark Erbaugh, Vice-President; Steve Frame, Secretary; and Lee Thomas, Treasurer.

Working on the prom brought the class together as a group instead of individuals. The Sophomores are anxiously awaiting their Junior year.

MR. ANDREWS gives Sue Cromer a helping hand.

Freshmen Meet New Challenges in Junior High

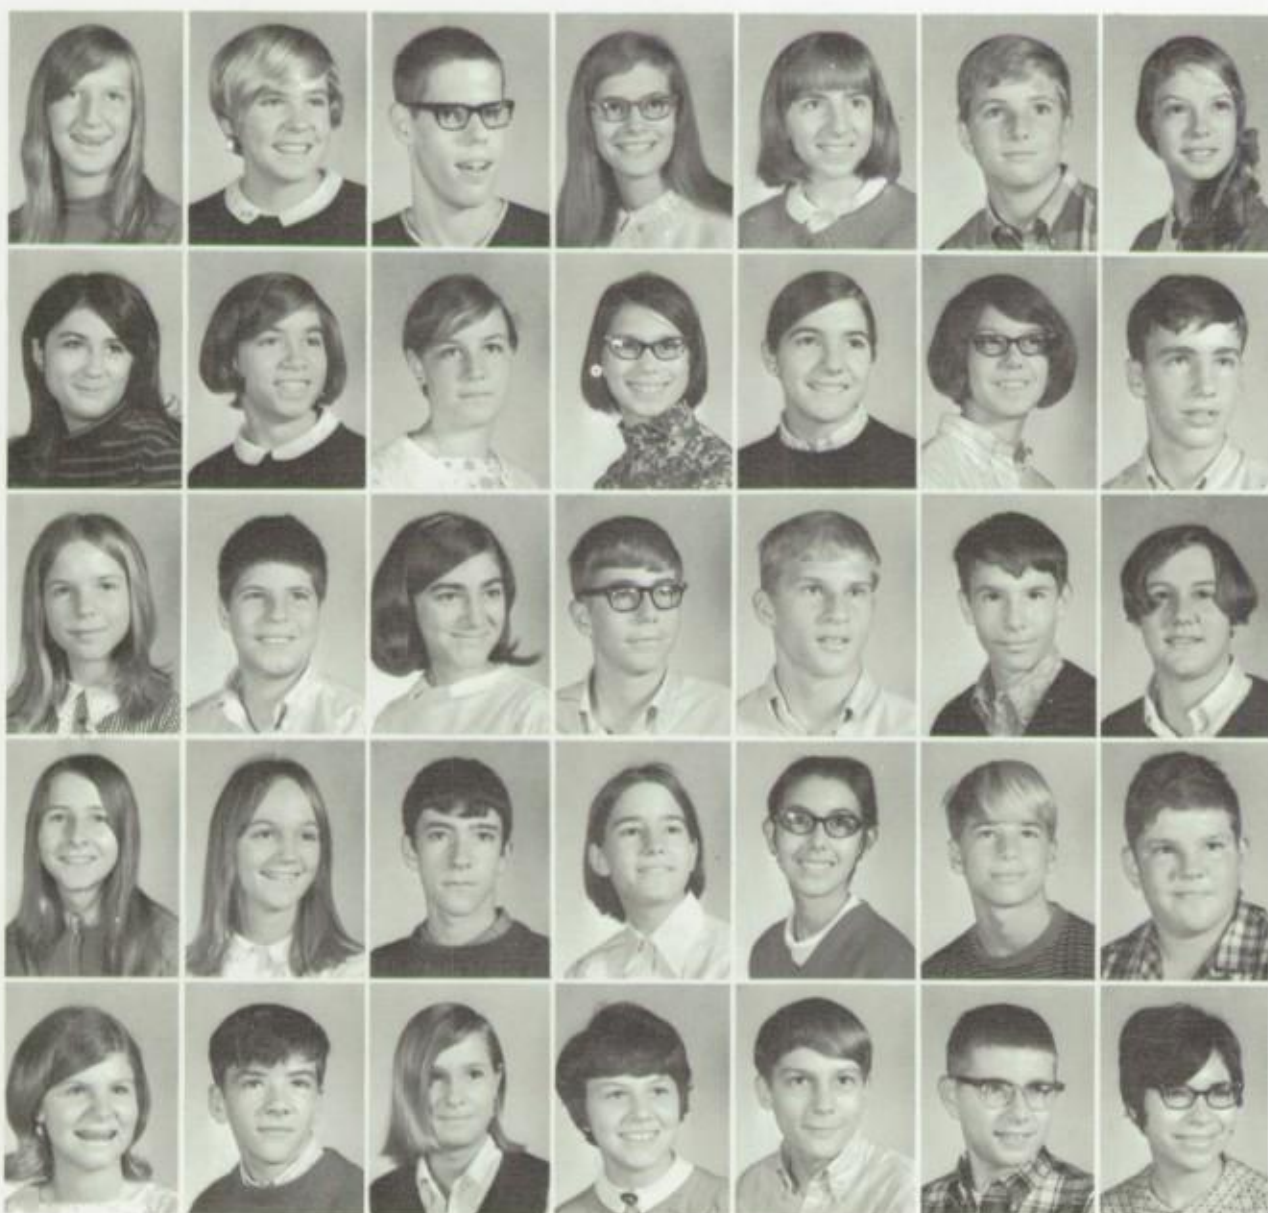

The Freshman class assumed greater responsibilities this past year. For the first time they planned their entire schedule for the classes that each would take until graduation.

The following officers represented the freshman class: Jeff Ireland, President; Tom Hochwalt, Vice-President; Bill Henkel, Secretary; and Rich Gowdy, Treasurer.

Eighth Graders Show Growing Interests

MR. KELLER explains a problem to his Math 8 class.

The eighth grade class returned to the junior high halls to prepare, both academically and athletically, for the forthcoming senior high years. More intensive homework was assigned by the teachers to prepare the eighth graders for the strenuous high school years. Coaches drilled the football and basketball teams, looking for future varsity material.

Adding pep to the boys' teams were the eighth grade cheerleaders: Carolyn Beyer, Elaine Boucher, Rosemary Bridgewater, Lesley Gorog, Becky Hanner, Lisa Herbert, Penny Wilson, Jenny Clark, Martha Haddick, Pam Karas, Sarah Longstreth, Cinda Slager, and Ann Wilson.

Officers chosen to lead the class were Allen Ash, President; Carolyn Beyer, Vice-President; Karen Stout, Secretary; and Houk Hitchcock, Treasurer.

The oncoming Freshmen are now ready to assume the responsibilities as the leaders of the junior high.

STUDENTS PERFORM an experiment for their Eighth grade Science class.

Seventh Graders Challenge A New World

The seventh graders entered through the doors of Oakwood High School this year to a world of new responsibilities and experiences.

Election of their class officers took place early in the year. They are as follows: Jeff Frame, President; Peter Davis, Vice-President; Tom Jervis, Secretary; and Terri Lawson, Treasurer.

Changing classes, exams, and extra curricular activities brought new experiences and challenges to the seventh graders.

Seventh grade cheerleaders helped add zest to the boys interscholastic sports. The football cheerleaders were Barb Batelle, Joy Bush, Jo Conkel, Susan Davidson, Sarah Graef, Janice McCants and Cathy Schmidt. Heidi Albrecht, Annie Kinlaw, Sheree Lagedrost, Terri Lawson, Sandy Lavengood, and Susan Walters cheered for basketball.

TOM MILLER draws a topic from Mr. Carr's "Lulu Day" box.

New Ideas Are Tried

Oakwood has been a place of changes in order to keep pace with the fast moving world of education. In the past year a new wing has been added, consisting of new rooms for the band, choir, art department, and several others for academic subjects. The library has been remodeled, and many of the classrooms have been carpeted.

This year marked the beginning of the administration of a new superintendent, Dr. William McPhee. There were also twelve teachers and seven student teachers added to Oakwood's faculty.

Each month each department met to discuss plans and policies on the second Tuesday of each month.

For the first time in Oakwood's history the tax levy was defeated on November 5. The voting was very close, but it still was defeated. The money was needed very badly, so a special election was held in December to present the issue again. The levy passed in the second election.

Tennis Team Looking For A Clean Sweep

SETH TAYLOR aces his opponent with his powerful serve.

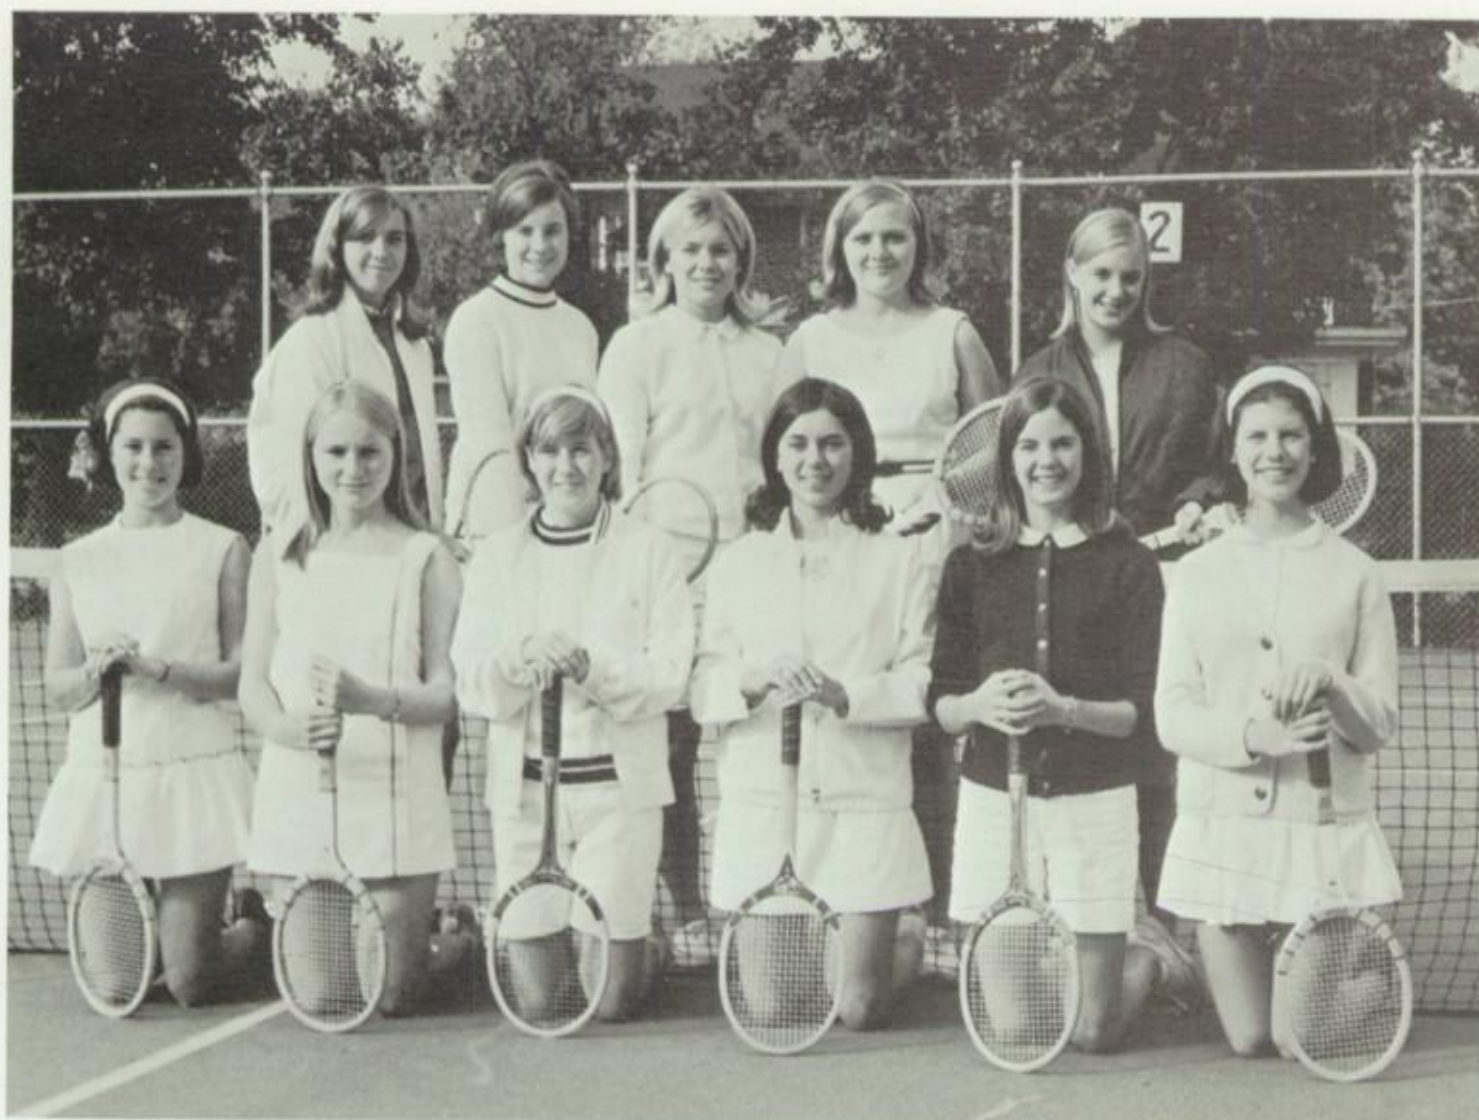

BILL WALKUP and Tom Rudwall show the determination that enabled them to play in the State matches.

Mr. Robert Anderson's leadership of this fine tennis team gave hopes to again reign triumphantly in the League and District. With returning seniors Bill Walkup, and Dick Bohlander, and juniors Tom Rudwall, Al Vontz, and Seth Taylor, the team is anxious to meet its competition and is sure to have a winning season.

The growing popularity of tennis should give Oakwood's team a better choice of players. Students should feel safe knowing what fine performances these boys showed us last year.

Tennis Jills Net Victories

The 1969 Tennis season was one of the best Oakwood ever had. With the addition of Patty Hochwalt, who ranked number one in the Ohio Valley Conference, and the rest of the returning players from last year, the girls ended with a victorious season.

Seniors on the team were Jane Shaffer, Nancy Brundige, Janet Wilson, and Cathy Hochwalt. Junior players were Patty Hochwalt, Nancy Connelly, Anby Davidson, Mary Maher, and Nancy Martin. Kaki Schumacher was the only sophomore on the team.

Miss Katherine Koogler was impressed with her tennis players and spent most of her time trying to arrange practice times with the boys' tennis coach, Mr. Robert Anderson, and looking for a place to put "Koogie's Korner."

NANCY BRUNDIGE concentrates on her powerful backhand.

NANCY MARTIN and Anby Davidson congratulate Nancy Connelly and Mary Maher on their game.

Golf Team Gets The Swing of Things

The league and district meets were the highlights in the golf season.

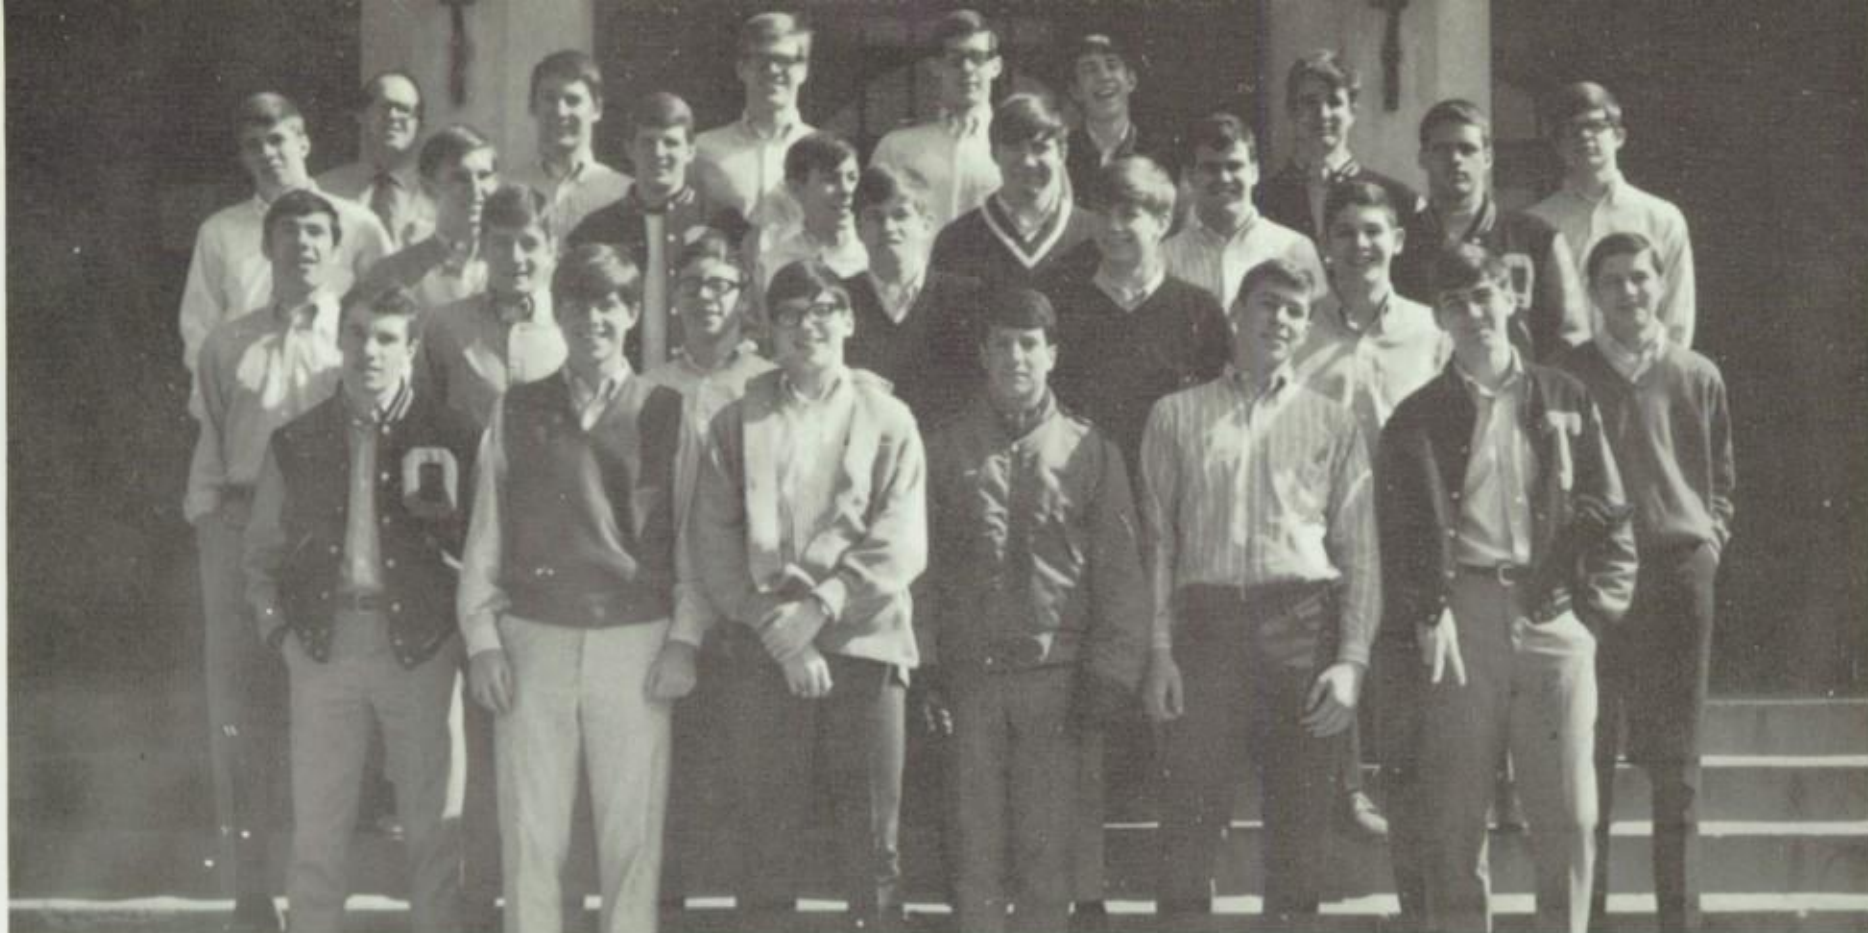

The SWBL meet consists of an eighteen hole playoff to determine the champion. Oakwood is setting its sites on placing high in the league.

The District meet will place some hopefuls on their way toward the State meet. An eighteen hole playoff elimination will determine members of the team eligible to go.

This years team is led by returning lettermen Steve Dankof and Steve Tuck. These two fine golfers will assist the other members to mold a fine team.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes Prosper in Many Ways.

A little guy with a football under his arm and his heart full of dreams! He's looking for a hero to follow and awaiting his chance to play.

An athlete has his influence, a boy has his heroes and his dreams. The Fellowship of Christian Athletes believes that every young fellow should be able to find the proper hero and become the best man, physically, mentally and spiritually, that he can be.

That's why these young men are out to confront every athlete and coach, and through them every young person in our nation; to accept the challenge and adventure of following Jesus Christ and serving Him through the fellowship of the church.

Highlights of this year's activities have been, the Second Annual Greater Dayton FCA Conference at Camp Kern sponsored by the Oakwood Huddle, a Spring Retreat in March, several joint meetings with other Huddles in the area; hearing such speeches as Leophus (Honda) Hayden, Ohio State; Rex Kern, Ohio State; Don Donoher, UD; Bill Rohr, Ohio University Athletic Director; Howard Gorrell, a Deaf Olympian and many others; several service projects with the Dayton Boys Clubs, City Mission, Cerebral Palsy Center, etc.

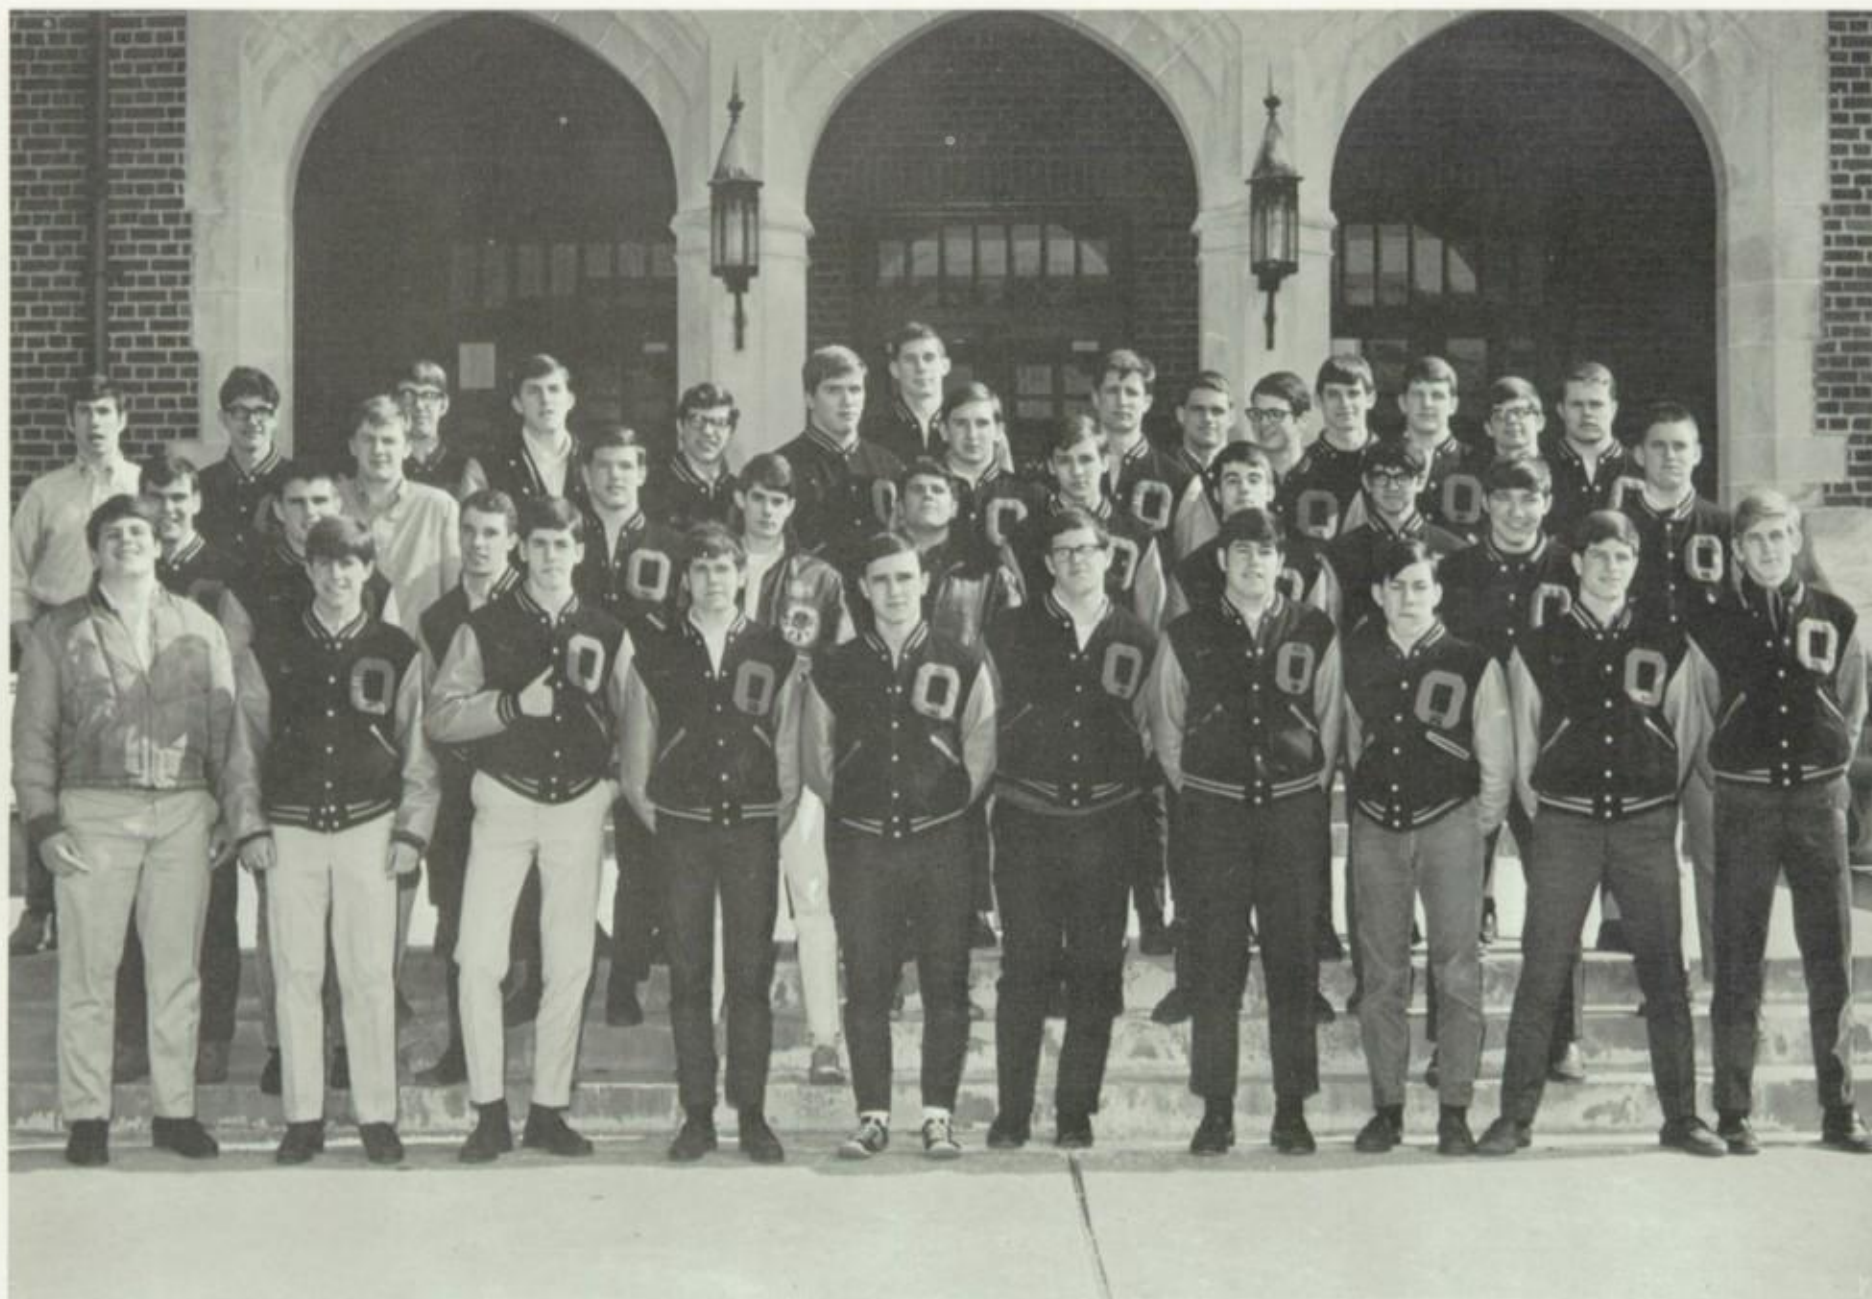

Probably most important is the new awareness the boys have of each other as they enter into dialogue about their athletic and spiritual lives.

Varsity O Has Successful Year

Varsity O club is organized to serve the school, athletes, and the community. The membership is open to all boys who have earned their letters and who wish to join. The project for the year was to raise money for a farewell dinner for retiring Athletic Director, Mr. Edmond Bigelow. The project was successful and the farewells will long be remembered by Mr. Bigelow and the athletes.

Money was plentiful when Varsity O members took over the concession stands during the basketball games. This project proved prosperous and at the end of the year the treasury showed a profit.

Girls Enjoy Sugar Creek Ski Party

Chairman, Jane Deuser, Social Chairman. Absent: Tammy Williams, Sophomore Point Chairman.

Girls' Athletic Association President Janet Wilson and the officers of the club advised by Miss Katherine Koogler, planned this year's GAA programs with ideas to help enrich their activities.

Intramurals in hockey, volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, badmitton, and soccer were sponsored by GAA for the senior high girls. GAA jackets were sold as the money making project last fall to help supplement the club's financial needs. The social event this year was the traditional ski trip taken on Friday, February 28 to Sugarcreek Ski Hills in Bellbrook, Ohio. This activity was enjoyed by about 30 girls who all agreed that it was one of the best ski trips ever.

Cross-Country Finishes 6th in S.W.B.L.

The Cross Country team seemed to lack the winning combination it had in the past years. Although they lacked the speed, they made up for it in enthusiasm. The team leader was Hugh Stephenson who proved to be Oakwood's most valuable member. He was backed by seniors Rich Requarth and Rick Ulbrich, and juniors Steve Chase and Bruce Henry.

Bernard Altick inspired the boys with his witty remarks. Oakwood finished in the league with Hugh Stephenson coming in 11, with a time of 10:34 and close behind was Bruce Henry who finished 12 with a time of 10:40.

The team will be losing three seniors, but with Henry and Chase back and a strong contingent of sophomores, there seems to be some light in the future for Oakwood.

GARY CRETCHER and Steve Hoffman take the hurdles in stride.

Track Team Sets Eyes On League

The Track team should be in excellent shape this Spring with the fine leadership from Mr. Howard Carr and the returning lettermen. The returning seniors will be Roger Beardmore and Hugh Stephenson in the distance races; Steve Hoffman and Bob Gowdy in the sprints; and rounding out the field events are Chris Yerkes in the broad jump, Steve Priest in the high jump, and Eric Jenkins in the shot put. These boys and a fine group of juniors and sophomores have set their fancies on digging up all the gold offered in the Spring meets.

OAKWOOD SPRINTERS are out of the blocks at the crack of the gun.

Oakwood Closes Season On Winning Note

The Oakwood Lumberjacks had their share of misfortunes, but ended with a 5-4-1 season.

The team lost a hard fought battle with Centerville. The Elks managed to score twice to the Jacks once.

The second game proved to be a disaster also when the Jacks faced the League leader—Trotwood Madison. Oakwood's offensive picked up more than two hundred yards on the ground, but had the misfortune of losing the ball within the twenty yard line. Oakwood's only score came when halfback Roger Beardmore made the touchdown in the third period, making the final score Trotwood 28—Oakwood 6.

After two losses the team was more determined to win because it was Parent's Night. Coach Sales' parents were present as well as the parents of the football players. No one was disappointed for the Lumberjacks defeated West Milton 14-6. The Bulldogs were the first to score, and defeat looked inevitable, but Roger Beardmore ran back a punt and Jon Stout intercepted a pass for a touchdown. With the extra point kicked from Doug Baker, Oakwood claimed the victor.

Following this win, the Jacks faced Brookville. They took the lead at the beginning of the game and kept it until late in the fourth quarter. With less than a minute on the clock, Brookville started to move the ball. After a pass interference called on Oakwood, Brookville had the ball within the 20 yard line. Oakwood held Brookville until the fourth down, but with only 2 seconds showing on the clock, Brookville scored. With the extra point conversion, Brookville won 8-7.

The following week Oakwood faced West Carrollton. The Pirates went out ahead and were leading at the half. The Jacks came back in the second half with scores from Tim Kelch and Dave Castor. The battle ended in a dead lock 14-14.

Tipp City came to Oakwood only to face defeat to a strong united Oakwood team. The defense played a magnificent game. Tipp City's only score was against the offense when they ran back a punt. The final score was 25-8.

Oakwood breezed through an easy victory over Northridge. The Polar Bears had only one previous win over Eaton and made easy prey for the hungry Lumberjacks.

The Lumberjacks fell back into their old habits, with Vandalia. They seemed to lack the punch which they had shown previously. The Aviators bowled over the Jacks 20-8.

The Eaton Eagles were the next team to fall under the blow of the Lumberjack's axe. The Jacks had a shut out going, but in the final six seconds, Eaton scored to make the final score Oakwood 21 and Eaton 6.

Going into the final game Oakwood faced a powerful Northmont team who was out for revenge. Oakwood stole the league title away from Northmont in the final game of the '67 season. Under the leadership of quarterback Jon Stout, Oakwood went on to shut out Northmont 19 to 0.

Ninth Grade Shows Good Promise

The ninth grade team shows some real promise for the varsity next year. The boys felt that this is the best team they have put together, even though their record was not exceptional. The team closed on a 3 to 3 note, losing in their final two games.

The front line of the team had some new boys, and they proved to be reliable.

The ninth grade started their season with a 14-8 win over Trotwood. They pushed forward at the next game to defeat Miamisburg 14-0. Northmont came on strong to defeat Oakwood 20-6. The following week Oakwood bounced back with a 14-6 win over West Carrollton. In the game against Wayne, halfback Mark Wells was injured and the team's running game was at a loss. Wayne beat Oakwood 12-0. The game with Vandalia proved fruitless also when Oakwood lost 20-0.

Seventh And Eighth Grade Football

HEAD COACHES Mr. Schnarre and Mr. Reichert.

The eighth grade team closed its 3-3-1 season with a win over the ninth grade second string. The ninth grade team has strong promise in the future for another successful season with the present eighth grade.

The seventh grade team ended with a 4-1-1 season and should continue to improve. The high scorers for the seventh grade were Thomas Jervis and Marty Erbaugh.

Wrestlers Excel

The second year for wrestling as an interscholastic sport proved to be successful for the Lumberjacks. Last year Oakwood placed well in the League, and Bob Gowdy, Pete Benner, and Bill Nischwitz wrestled well in the District tournament. This year the team hopes to do better since they have some experience under their belts.

Coached by Mr. Dan Razor, the wrestlers will gain some invaluable knowledge which should aid them in their matches. The returning seniors who led the team consisted of Bob Gowdy, Chris Yerkes, Bill Nischwitz, Geordie Mackenzie, Dennis Helmig, Dave Krauss, Dave Castor, Jeff Miller, Hugh Stephenson, and Dennis O'Grady.

Weeks of hard practice, sweat and a lot of determination paid off for the 1968 hockey Jills. The varsity and reserve teams had victorious seasons with records of 9-0 and 7-1-2, respectively. Many personal interests had to be given up for daily afternoon practice which meant that the evenings had to be spent on homework. The girls accepted this and settled down to routine under their new coach, Miss Kathy Koogler.

Nancy Brondige, Christy Cooper and Sally Fogt were the Varsity's leading scorers. Leading the reserve team in total of goals scored were Barbara Price and Tammy Williams.

Celebrations at Marion's topped off the victorious occasions while the main highlight was the Hockey Awards Banquet held in mid-November.

Basketball Team In Rebuilding Stage

The Varsity Basketball Team had only one returning letterman. It was obvious that the team lacked experience.

The season started off rough facing four very powerful teams. The first games were with Centerville, Alter, and Trotwood, the SWBL leader.

According to the newspaper and "Mick's Picks" Oakwood was to finish last in their league. This outrage gave the boys the lift needed to succumb their adversaries and come out of the hole finishing seventh in the league. Seventh place was a disappointment to Coach Gardener who has not had a losing season in the league in the last 12 years.

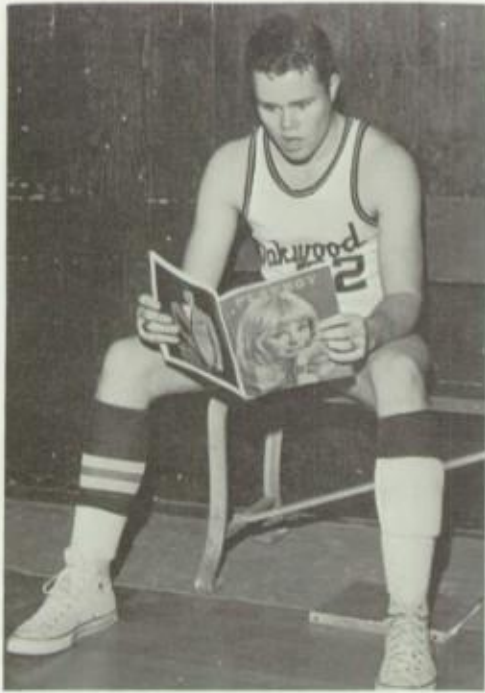

Coach Gardner felt the boys lacked the speed and shooting ability that Oakwood had shown in the past. He also felt the attitude of the boys in the off season was poor. He said that to play well during the season the boys must continue to practice during the off season. Only with this attitude can he start to mold a ball club.

Oakwood's team had one outstanding player, center Dave Flory. Dave was rated 16th in the area scoring and was picked to the SWBL 10 man team as well as an honorable mention in the all-area team. He proved to be Oakwood's highest scorer and formed the nucleus of the ball club.

Coach Sales was pleased with the Reserve team. The Reserves finished with an 8 win and 8 loss season. Many of the boys moved up to the Varsity. Coach Sales feels that the main purpose of the Reserves is to act as a training camp. Coach Sales also feels that the Reserves offer a lot of hope for the future.

Tom Benner was a new inexperienced guard, but he proved himself worthy of a starting position. Houk Hitchcock and Bill Hochwalt proved themselves at the guard positions with their ability to scrap and shoot from the outside. Steve Plamer and Phil Hayes showed that through their efforts they could nail down starting positions and Terry Messenger could be counted on scoring when the team's in a pinch.

The Seventh Grade team closed the season with 7 wins and 7 losses. The team in general played good ball. At times they showed great hustle, but they were not consistent. Oakwood would have won their league with 5 wins over other league teams, but there is not a junior high league. There were 17 boys on the team and 11 started at least one of the games. The highlight of the season was the teams victory over Tipp City whose only loss was to Oakwood.

The Ninth Grade team had a disappointing season with 1 win and 13 losses. Despite the losses the team used its tenacity to improve their play during the season. Coach McTaggart indicated that the team co-operated well. He said, "How well they do in the future will depend upon their desire to improve during the off season."

The Eighth Grade team also had a disappointing season with a record of 2 wins and 12 losses. Even with a number of losses, the team ended on a happy note with the defeat of Miamisburg. Miamisburg had a 9-1 record going into the final game against Oakwood. This victory proved to the team that they had the sportsmanship, skills, and ability it takes to form the nucleus of a fine ball club. Mr. Koster, the coach, said from the view of a coach the year was disappointing. He felt the Miamisburg victory will prove to the team that they have the skills and ability to be a winning team.

Jay Roudebush was the team's high scorer and possessed the most talent as a player. Pat Murphy developed into the team's most aggressive player and Jim Cretcher gave a big boost in the scoring for the team.

Though the 1968 Senior High Volleyball season was unsuccessful in scoring, the girls, under the coaching of Miss Katherine Koogler, put forth their best efforts making the games the most thrilling ever. With a season of three wins and five losses, the team members enjoyed fun practices and the social hours after the games.

Junior Varsity had unfortunate losses. They completed the season with two wins and six losses. The team, made up mostly of juniors and sophomores, shows great promises for next year's Varsity team.

Jane Shaffer, who averaged twenty points per game, Nancy O'Hara, Mary Maher, and Nancy Brundige were the pointmakers for the Varsity team while Sandy Tinnerman and Nancy Davis kept their opponents from making too many baskets.

The Reserve teams were led by Tammy Williams, Kaki Schumacher, Lissa Priest, and Debby Beyer, the pointmakers, Jane Ryckman and Marsie West combined forces to help keep the ball at the offensive side of the court for the Jills.

Coach Katherine Koogler was pleased with the team's ability to win the games, but she was a bit mystified by their antics.

The 1969 edition of the Lumberjack Baseball team has that youthful look. Several promising Sophomores are expected to see a lot of action this spring on the diamond. Such young men as Jeff Davis, Bud Henry, and Steve Frame are expected to fill in the vacant spots left open from last year's team. To help steady the youngsters Seniors Jon Stout, team captain, Tim Henness, and Andy Chafin as well as Juniors Doug Stansfield and Steve Robertson will be seeing lots of action.

This year's edition will definately be better in the field and stronger at the bat. With the SWBL expected to be much more evenly matched, the Lumberjacks could be a threat. As the old saying goes "the worm has turned" and prospects are Bright for Baseball 1969.

Girls' Softball Team Makes Big Hit

Marveled by their abundant talents, the coach of the Girls' Softball team, Miss Katherine Koogler, took on the job of placing these talents in a place beneficial to the team.

The girls began practice in mid-March to be ready for the first game in the middle of April. Because of no practice space at the high school, the girls trekked down to the baseball diamond at Shafor Park each day after school to perfect their skills. Unfortunately, the diamond was not of official size and all the games had to be played at their opponents' schools.

The team had an array of good players this year. Some of the seniors were Christy Cooper, Carolyn Pfanner, Debby Beyer and Janie Schaffer. Juniors were represented by Belinda Powell, Janet Bridgewater, Jane Routson and Sandy Tinnerman. Kaki Schumacher, Lissa Priest, Karen Coy and Jane Ryckman helped complete the sophomore contingent of the team. Senior Diane Stambaugh and sophomore Cindy Ridall were managers.

Despite the changeable spring weather and the many other spring activities, the team enjoyed a good season and the sophomores and juniors look forward to an even better season next year.

Council Discusses Controversial Issues

The Student Council, under the leadership of Dick Bohlander, Steve Herbert, Seth Taylor, and Doug Stansfield, worked directly with the administration in an effort to increase communication between the student body and the faculty. This year the council sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance and an assembly series for the senior high.

The council worked to find a suitable location in school for exempt seniors to go during study halls, and to find a place for study during noon. Also, a revision of the present Honor Roll system was suggested. One purpose of the Student Council is to bring about a closer relationship between the administration and student body, and this year's council achieved their goal.

DICK BOHLANDER leads a discussion concerning plans for the Homecoming Dance.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS — Seth Taylor, secretary; Steve Herbert, vice-president; Dick Bohlander, president; and Doug Stansfield, treasurer.

A school-wide mock presidential election began the year for JCOWA. Students representing the three major presidential candidates presented each party's platform to the student body during an assembly. Enthusiasm for the project was great, as many students wore hats and carried banners and signs promoting the candidate of their choice. A week later, students were permitted during study halls to place a vote on the voting machines for one of the presidential candidates. After the actual nationwide election, the results of the Oakwood election were revealed, with Nixon far in the lead.

Another change in this year's format was UN week. There was no foreign food served in the cafeteria and no announcements in foreign languages were made as has been the custom. Instead, JCOWA members celebrated UN week by inviting a speaker, and then they planned for "Freedom Week" which involved the whole school.

In keeping with the plan to study South America, there was a debate concerning the problem of overpopulation and birth control in the South American countries. JCOWA used the topic of birth control in an effort to understand a possible solution to the dire poverty which exists in South America because of the over-population. No vote of the club was taken, but it appeared that most of the members were sympathetic to the pro-birth control side.

Nixonettes Wendy Manning, Holly Hirsch, Mary Maher, and Sandy Tinnerman added spirit to the mock election assembly.

JCOWA members Joe Wolfe and Kim Gilfillen defend birth control while Patty Hochwalt and Susan Amann debate against it.

The main function for Oakwood's Youth Council was to plan all the open houses and any other activities at the Y which were connected with the school. This year, membership was opened to anyone who wished to work on the council. Originally, one representative from each senior high homeroom served on the Youth Council.

In addition to planning open houses, the Fine Arts Society, open to seniors, was organized by the Youth Council with the help of Mr. Ronald Price. The biggest project of the Council was to collect paperback books to send to injured men in the hospitals in Vietnam. The two barrels, placed in the junior and senior high halls, collected such favorites as Moby Dick, The Scarlet Letter, and A Tale of Two Cities. Regardless of the topic, the Youth Council realized that any of the books would be greatly appreciated by the men.

Basketball Is A Grand Success

BREAKING TRADITION, King Dave Flory offers a congratulatory handshake to Queen Diane Hall.

The admirable exploits and efforts of the varsity basketball team and especially star center Dave Flory were honored February 22 at the annual Basket Ball. Queen Diane Hall and King Dave Flory reigned over the dance, which featured the exciting and original music of the East Bound Traffic, a popular local band that contributed considerably to the success of the evening.

Senior girls chosen for the court of the Basket Ball included Kathy Herbert, Diane Hall, Sherrie Holmes, Sue Ordeman, and Nancy Brown. Boys on the court were senior players Rick Requarth, Dave Flory, Steve Dankof, Jack Duncan, and Bill Walkup. The evening was an appropriate tribute to the admirable efforts of this year's varsity basketball squad.

NFL Members Sponsor Invitational Tournament

Oakwood's National Forensic League again hosted its own speech and debate tournaments this year. An invitational individual events contest in November and the invitational debate tournament in January were just two of the activities in which members could participate. Contests every Saturday gave the opportunity not only for excelling in public speaking but also for meeting people from other schools and often cultivating new friendships.

In addition to speaking activities, speech participants held their annual bake sale at the end of the year. To close another outstanding and successful season, the members were honored at the annual NFL banquet in the spring.

The main function of the club in the school is to provide an opportunity for a person to gain poise and ease in speaking before friends and strangers. The ability to speak is important to college and later life. Oakwood's NFL also recognized those students with outstanding speaking ability and kept the student body informed of the club's many activities and achievements through the NFL showcase in the senior high hall.

With the leadership of officers Vicky Morgan, president; Wendy Arnold, vice-president; Barb Price, secretary, Elise Price, treasurer; and Libby Cox, recorder; Mr. Shearer and the NFL again brought recognition to Oakwood in competitive speech and debate.

New Service Projects Begun By Red Cross

RED CROSS members gather to discuss plans for the United Appeal Drive.

The Red Cross Council, advised by Miss Sally Westrick, strove to interest high school students in learning about the problems of our city and of the world where there are less fortunate people. The first large project of the year for the council was the United Appeal Drive in the fall. Members paid several visits to the Central Nursing Home. Service projects also included gathering supplies for the people of Vietnam, such as school supplies for the children, health aids, food, and clothing.

Working in association with the American Red Cross, the Oakwood Red Cross Council members strove toward the betterment of our community, country, and places overseas through their services.

NHS Encourages Achievement

Under the guidance of advisor Mrs. Sipe, Oakwood's National Honor Society inducted twenty-six new members during the annual ceremony. Guest speaker for the induction was Reverend Joel S. Baer. The Chapter's activities included a luncheon following the induction ceremony, an initiation of new members, and the annual Christmas Tea for present members and graduate members of the last two years. The Chapter continued to operate the vending machines as a service to the school. This year the machines were replaced by new ones and relocated for more convenience to the students.

The purpose of the Oakwood Chapter were the same as those of the Society in schools all over the country. The National Honor Society strove to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote leadership, to stimulate a desire to render service, and to develop character in the students of American secondary schools.

Journalism Club Schedules Noted Speakers

Nine new members of Quill and Scroll were officially inducted into the club this year by the advisor, Miss Esther Crisman. There was a dinner at the Oakwood Club, and the induction ceremony followed.

Qualifications for induction into the journalism club are set by the National Headquarters. The student must be either a junior or a senior, rank in the upper one-third of his class scholastically, and he must also have a reputable background in journalism.

The Quill and Scroll members participated in an active club that sponsored many meetings with interesting speakers. On the agenda was journalist Marj Heyduck of the Journal Herald, Ted Ryan of WHIO-TV, and the editor of the Minority Report, a controversial newspaper at the University of Dayton.

Teamwork Is Key To Producing The Acorn

JANE ROUTSONG, Jeri Jervis, Ann Davidson, and Pepper Hitchcock prepare sections of the Acorn for the next deadline.

Work on the 1969 Acorn began the spring before, after the 1968 edition was completed. The staff, chosen at the end of last year, was put to work over the summer selling advertisements, taking pictures, and designing the general outline for the yearbook.

The first job of the year for each staff member was to schedule pictures to be taken. When the pictures were received, they had to be cut, labeled, and placed on the page. Next, copy was written, measured, typed, proofread, and often retyped. Three deadlines arrived quickly. The swift pace kept the Acorn staff quite active during the year, but they worked hard and well to produce another fine yearbook.

PHOTOGRAPHY EDITOR Nancy Brundige, advisor Miss Crisman, and copy editor Kathy Herbert decide which pictures are to be used.

Oakleaf Reflects Student Opinion

Rolling off the presses for the sixteenth year, the Oak Leaf was again a success. The eleven members of the Oak Leaf staff worked diligently to express the student opinion through editorials. The staff sought to improve the appearance of the paper and to write more stimulating copy.

The purpose of the Oak Leaf was to inform the student body of school functions and club activities. Also, the paper gave recognition to deserving individuals in sports, drama, music, and speech. The paper provided the students with a way to voice opinions. Working on the Oak Leaf gave the members of the staff an opportunity to gain some experience in the field of journalism.

Editors Dave Flory, Linda Gerhard, and Business Manager Katie Cauley proofread an edition of the Oak Leaf.

Junior High Publications Display Creative Talents

JUNIOR JACK STAFF — Standing: C. Frye, D. Myers, B. Mote, D. Westin, J. Sheehan, J. Creager, C. Slager, T. Walters, J. Conkel, P. Bailie, D. Keyes, N. Brown, F. Price, C. Cussey, T. Sperry, J. Voit, C. Brady, E. Seifert, T. Wall, M. Walker, J. Wallace, K. Theurmer, Miss Sloan, advisor. Seated: B. Medbury, J. Herron, W. McCauley, P. Hanson, T. Holsapple.

For the third year, the Junior High publications, Junior Jack and Literary Dimensions rolled off the presses. The staff, composed of only junior high students, published the newspaper and magazine once a month with the help of their advisor, Miss Sharon Slone. In each issue of the paper feature columns such as "Dear Jack" and "Dear Jill" offered practical advice to students. The magazine also contained articles of interest to junior high students, in addition to creative works done by them.

The Junior Jack and Literary Dimensions were established to provide a means for junior high school students to express their views on matters of school concern. Each student also had the opportunity to display his creative writing talents through participation in the Junior High Publications.

FAS Attend Performances At Cincinnati and Antioch

Membership in the Fine Arts Society this year was quite high, as nearly one-third of the seniors joined. Mr. Ronald Price, the club's advisor, believed that the great interest was a result of the excursion of Cincinnati when all the senior English classes went to see Shakespeare's A Comedy of Errors.

Included in the plans for this year were two plays presented at Antioch — The Adding Machine and The Cherry Orchard. Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead was of special interest to those seniors having thoroughly studied Hamlet. Not all of the FAS activities were attending plays. The group also attended a performance of Mahler's Eighth Symphony by the Cincinnati Symphony, and a presentation of The Man of La Mancha. Through membership in the Fine Arts Society, students had the opportunity to develop an appreciation for various types of music and dramatic performances.

Moving into a new room began the year for art students. Pen and Brush members participated in various art projects throughout the year in an effort to promote interest and further their knowledge of art. The club, under the leadership of president, Nora Wall; vice-president, Susan Penny; secretary, Jenny Arthur; and treasurer, Mark Risley offered movies to members concerning professions in art, and sponsored sketching trips in the spring.

The Pen and Brush Club members offered their services for decorating the Oakwood Youth Center. During Christmas the club entered the Dorothy Lane Market window painting contest. Art students were privileged to display their talents in showcases in both the senior high hall and the Board of Education office.

Presented in the spring, the Four Arts show was the largest project for Pen and Brush this year. Exhibits were arranged in the cafeteria and the girls' gym. In this way, the club members were able to give all students a better knowledge and appreciation of art.

Thespians Further Dramatic Interest

THESPIAN MEMBERS present their remarks on the ideals of society.

MR. UNGER and Mr. Suter award certificates to new members during the solemn ceremony.

Flickering candlelight and respectful solemnity introduced the National Thespian Society to Oakwood's students who have made outstanding contributions in the dramatic arts. A total of sixty were given membership in two induction ceremonies, which was quite an accomplishment since only those people who had secured ten merit points and the recommendation of the sponsor, Mr. Suter, were granted membership in the national organization.

The ceremony, which took place in the library, emphasized the ideals of the Society. Dr. Fredrick Speakman was the guest speaker and students presented remarks on dance and pantomime, music, speech, dramatic literature, and the theater.

The Thespians promised to be a great asset and they accomplished their stated purpose—to promote the dramatic arts. Their activities included a show in which the faculty members did the performing with Thespians contributing the behind-the-scenes support, and a play completely produced and directed by the members without any adult supervision.

The Summa Club, organized by Latin teacher Mrs. Sipe, is an honorary organization for Latin students. In order to become a member of the Summa Club, a Latin student must score a perfect one hundred per cent on at least one test, which explains the derivation of the name of the club. Summa in Latin means "highest" or "best". Often, students come within one-half of a point of qualifying for the club, and to have a perfect score is definitely an honor in Mrs. Sipe's classes. Indeed, the Summa Club is for the "best".

Twice a month, the German club met with interesting guest speakers. Two men who have been of the exchange trip to Dayton's sister city, Augsburg, spoke to the group about teenagers in Germany, their lives, and how they differ from American teens. For another meeting, club member Ray Carmichael presented his slides from a trip with the Dayton Rotary Boys' Choir to Germany and other European countries.

Officers for the club were: Patty Hochwalt, president; Dave Rudwall, vice-president; Doug Henness, secretary; Ray Carmichael, treasurer; and Tom Coyne, parliamentarian.

French Club Learns Culinary Arts of France

In its third year, the French club grew so large that two clubs were formed. Club A, led by Sue Ordeman, president; Barb Voge, vice-president; Barb Price, secretary; and Jim Nevin, treasurer, was for advanced French students. Janet Ordeman, Cindy Brown, Pam Jenkins, and Jene Zelik headed Club B, formed for first and second year French students.

Meetings of the French club included guest speakers, movies spoken in French, and cooking French meals. The purpose of the club was to stimulate an interest in the culture and history of France and the way of life of the people.

Band Members Fill The Air With Music

Before the school year began, the Oakwood High School Band was already at work. Beginning the last week in August, Mr. Walker and the band members were practicing on the field for performances at the County Fair, the Holiday at Home Parade, and the Ice Cream Social. Then came football season, during which the band performed a different halftime show nearly every week. The pep band aroused spirit when they played at the pep assemblies and several basketball games.

Following marching season the band began work on concert music in preparation for the District and State contests and their two annual concerts in February and May. To end a busy year, the Band Parents' Association again sponsored the Lawn Fete, during which the public had the opportunity to hear the Oakwood band and a guest band. The officers this year were: Band Captain, Richard Rawson; Drum Major, Patti Alexander; Attendance, Sue Phillips; Librarians, Linda Gerhard, Janet Roth, Karen Lingle; Head Drummer, Tom Ducker; Property, Tom Vollbrecht, Mike Goins, Scott Logan.

The Junior Band was involved in several activities this year. They played for an eighth grade football game, a school assembly, and presented their spring concert in May. Although a bit smaller this year, the Junior Band worked hard to produce fine music.

Learning music as an art was a primary function of instrumental music. Band members were taught to appreciate many different types of music through performing. Also, they learned the advantage of being involved in the discipline of group artistic endeavor and education. Again, recognition was given to Oakwood through Mr. Walker and the Oakwood bands.

Vocal Department Occupies New Room

The choir and ensembles participated in a variety of activities this year. In addition to the Christmas and Spring Concerts, the choir began the year by singing in a music festival with the Trotwood choir. During the Christmas season, the choir performed at the Miami Valley Country Club, and in the spring at Bathany Lutheran Village.

Completion of a new room heightened the enthusiasm of vocal music students. This year also included a variety of new music, ranging from a Bach Fugue to traditional Jingle Bells, to a modern Russian number.

Although again hampered by scheduling difficulties, the vocal music department continued to produce the high quality of music for which Oakwood is known. The choir, led by Nancy Harbottle, president; Chris Ryckman, vice-president, Janet Speakman, secretary; and Nancy Martin and Greg Rike, librarians; strove to produce an even greater interest in the vocal music department at Oakwood.

Seniors Perform The Odd Couple

BILL RUSSELL, as Felix, draws sympathy from Sally Fogt and Libby Cox, the Pigeon sisters.

On November 15 and 16, the seniors presented The Odd Couple under the excellent direction of the new drama teacher, Mr. Richard Unger. Student director Holly Hirsch and stage manager Kathy Bolenbaugh worked hard behind the scenes to organize committees and make the play a success. The play, a comedy, was about two men who lived in an apartment on Riverside Drive, New York. Both Oscar Madison, played by Chris Yerkes, and Felix Ungar, played by Bill Russell, were separated from their wives. This fact was revealed as the play opened by the complete disarray of the apartment. For a while, it looked as though the problems of cooking and housekeeping would be solved by the arrival of Gwendolyn and Cecily Pigeon, played by Sally Fogt and Libby Cox.

The members of the cast will remember this play for some time. They all enjoyed it because Mr. Unger allowed the actors to develop their own interpretations and made suggestions only when necessary. Everything was done naturally, especially the poker games. On weekend nights, the gang gathered at Oscar's apartment: Speed, Pete Benner; Murray the Cop, John Haupt; Roy, Jamie Priest; and Vinnie, Joe Wolfe. No one will forget Murray's comment about Felix's "spaghetti" or the bacon, lettuce, and tomato sandwiches made especially for the poker gang.

The cast agreed that the outstanding amount of cooperation from all the seniors and the faculty helped to make this play a great success.

OAKWOOD'S ODD Couple, Chris Yerkes and Bill Russell, confront each other in an argument over household duties.

PLAYING A Friday night poker game is not unusual for cast members Bill Russell, Joe Wolfe, John Haupt, Pete Benner, Chris Yerkes, and Jamie Priest.

Diary of Anne Frank Relives Horrors of War

Terror, grief, siren screams in the middle of the night, explosions, and undercover agents were nightmares of World War II. The all-school drama, The Diary of Anne Frank, relived for Oakwood audiences the horrors of war for the Jewish family. Presented March 20 and 21 in the school auditorium, the play was an adaption from a true story entitled Anne Frank, Diary of a Young Girl.

An unusually brilliant performance was possible because all but two of the actors had performed on the Oakwood stage in the past. The focal point, Anne Frank, was competently played by Katie Bates. Starring with her as Mr. Frank was John Haupt. Other starring roles were Mrs. Frank, played by Barb Price; Mr. and Mrs. Van Daan, Joe Wolfe and Sally Focht, respectively; Peter Van Daan, Greg Rike; Margot Frank, Kathy Bolenbaugh; Meip, Alice Selden; Mr. Dussel and Mr. Kraler, by Chris Ryckman and Pete Benner. Nancy Brundige was the student director.

Mr. Unger, the director, was particularly enthused about the production of this play because Oakwood students could profit from a better understanding of the Jewish family. Four different stage areas were used, and the experimenting with the stage aided in reverting the imaginations of the audience in another drama department spectacular.

The unusual stage complemented the fine acting. Suspended several feet above the basic stage was a large attic serving as Mr. and Mrs. Van Daan's bedroom. Stage extensions provided for a large acting area while separations on either side represent Margot's and Peter's quarters respectively.

MRS. VAN Daan struggles to recover her fur coat from her husband before he sells it to buy cigarettes, while Meip and Margot Frank watch with amusement.

MRS. FRANK, Mr. Frank, and Mr. Kraler meet Mr. Dussel, who takes residence in the Frank household.

PETER VAN Daan attempts to steal a kiss from Anne Frank.

The Foreign Exchange Student Club was formed at the beginning of the year as an opportunity for the foreign students to discuss with Oakwood students their ideas and feelings about living in the United States. President Nancy Brown, having spent last summer in Japan, felt that there was a need to make the exchange students feel more a part of the Oakwood student body, the school, and the community.

Activities of the club included several car washes and selling AFS stock in order to sponsor other foreign students in the future. Nancy Brown and the other officers Doug Hahn, vice-president; Becky Bowling, secretary; and Dick Bohlander, treasurer, planned a trip to the Dayton Museum of Natural History and Planetarium with other area exchange students. In addition, the club went to Columbus for a tour of the state capitol and to give our foreign students the opportunity to see our government in action.

Kathy Reigns Over '68 Homecoming Festivities

Queen Kathy Herbert shows her surprise as other court members look on: Jamie Priest and Nora Wall, Cliff Berringer and Sherrie Holmes, Kim Haverstick and Cathy Hochwalt, Greg Rike and Kathy Herbert, Steve Klum and Patti Alexander.

The halftime entertainment was the highlight of the October 11 homecoming game against Tipp City. The court members rode in new Corvettes driven by senior boys. Mr. Anderson then introduced the court and announced Kathy Herbert as queen. Nancy Brown presented the flowers and David Castor kissed the queen. Immediately after the victory over Tipp City there was an open house at the Y. The following evening a dance in honor of the queen and her attendants was held in the gym. Music was provided by the Cellophane Street Car.

Serenaded by the music of The Dayton Majestics, promgoers entered the girls' gym and found themselves in another world. "Avalanche," the seniors' last major effort, was presented on January 25 under the able co-chairmanship of Dena Michaelson and Steve Priest.

Christmas evergreens decorating the walls, fluffy clouds, luminous stars and snowflakes on the ceiling lit by a violet light — all combined in creating a snowy mountain-top atmosphere for the Senior Prom.

The highlight of the evening came when Steve Priest and Nora Wall were crowned king and queen. Following the coronation, the court and their guests were amused by the antics and the Laugh-In type entertainment. Famous sayings and seniors' impressions of various teachers were presented. Mr. Price and his broken Chris Harris television set, Goldie, and Mr. Kern and his homeroom roll call all added up to fun-filled entertainment by the seniors.

Sophs Present Midnight In A Wine Cellar

A rustic German setting was the theme for the sophomore's first prom, Midnight in a Wine Cellar, under the co-chairmanship of Sheila Brown and Steve Fraim. As the promgoers entered the gym, they felt as if they were walking through the countryside of Germany. Murals of the Bavarian Mountains, wine and champagne bottles decorated the walls. The tables were decorated by checkered cloths and more wine bottles holding candles. A giant cuckoo clock appeared above the bandstand where The Elders, a top recording group from Cincinnati, provided music for dancing. The sophomores' first prom attempt turned out to be quite imaginative and successful.
